

Answers:

- 1) The swimming pool had to be closed because the level of chlorine in the water was too high.
- 2) The caterpillar spun a silky case and transformed inside its chrysalis before emerging as a butterfly.
- 3) The cathedral's chorister sang with such clarity that the notes echoed beautifully through the arches.
- 4) Every autumn, my grandmother plants a bright yellow chrysanthemum in her garden to mark the season.
- 5) The little village was so picturesque that tourists often stopped just to take photographs of its charming houses.
- 6) The nurse checked the patient's fever by placing a thermometer under his tongue.
- 7) The electrician used an ammeter to measure how much current was flowing through the circuit.
- 8) Instead of carrying coins and cash, he wrote his landlord a cheque for the monthly rent.
- 9) The abandoned carnival ride looked so twisted and grotesque that even the bravest children avoided it.